CITY OF CLARKSBURG

Updates from City Manager, Tiffany Fell

Clarksburg's Bright Future is Ahead:

It is a pleasure to share an update on the positive momentum building across the City of Clarksburg. As we look ahead, it is clear that good things are not only possible; they are already taking shape in meaningful ways.

We continue to see encouraging interest from new businesses choosing to invest in our community. From small, locally owned shops to expanding regional operations, entrepreneurs recognize Clarksburg as a city with opportunity, accessibility, and strong community support.

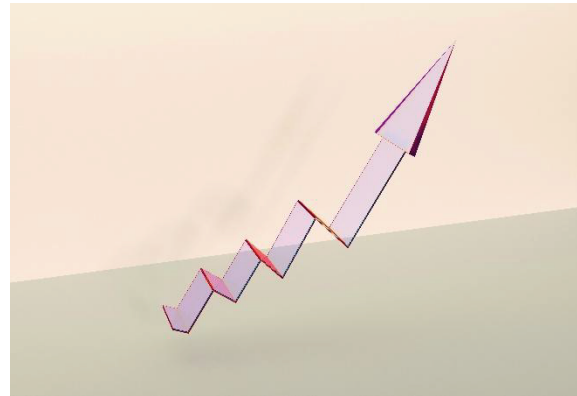

Each new opening adds jobs, services, and renewed energy to our commercial areas. Just as important, several established businesses are reinvesting and growing, reflecting confidence in our city's direction and stability.

Community events are also playing a major role in our continued progress. Our festivals, markets, concerts, and youth activities are bringing residents together and drawing visitors into the heart of Clarksburg. These gatherings strengthen local pride, support small businesses, and showcase the welcoming spirit that defines our city.

The increased participation we are seeing is a testament to the strong sense of connection within our community. Behind the scenes, we remain focused on infrastructure improvements and responsible planning.

Ongoing maintenance, roadway enhancements, and public space upgrades ensure that we are prepared for both current needs and future growth. These steady investments lay the groundwork for continued success.

Clarksburg's progress is the result of collaboration—between city staff, residents, business owners, and community partners. With continued dedication and shared optimism, our city is well positioned for the opportunities ahead. The future is bright, and together, we are building it one step at a time.
