CITY OF CLARKSBURG

Updates from City Manager, Tiffany Fell

Thank you to our City Staff & Departments:

Recent winter weather brought significant snowfall and challenging conditions across the City of Clarksburg. Despite these conditions, city employees across multiple departments worked continuously to ensure that essential services remained available and that residents could travel safely.

Public Works staff played a critical role throughout each storm, working extended and often overnight hours to plow and salt roadways across the city. Crews focused first on emergency routes, major roadways, steep hills, and high-traffic areas, then moved into residential streets as conditions allowed.

Even as snow continued to fall, Public Works crews remained active, keeping roads passable for emergency vehicles, commuters, and residents.

Police and Fire Department personnel continued normal operations while also responding to weather-related incidents. Fire crews maintained full readiness to respond to emergencies citywide, navigating snow-covered roads to ensure response times were not compromised.

I, along with the City, extend sincere appreciation to all employees who worked through these winter events and to residents for their patience and cooperation.
