CITY OF CLARKSBURG

Updates from City Manager, Tiffany Fell

We may have been experiencing record breaking heat in July, but the City of Clarksburg had a cool finish to the month. The Water Board completed the waterline repairs and reopened Pike Street a week ahead of schedule, guitar legend Steve Vai rocked the Robinson Grand, we celebrated the expansion of El Rey Mexican Restaurant in Newpointe on their 10th anniversary, and we announced the availability of a part time Records Clerk position with the Clarksburg Police.

Not Slowing Down in August

The city isn't slowing down in August. We started the month with our annual Night Out Against Crime organized by the Clarksburg Police Department and hosted by Clarksburg City Parks at Veteran's Memorial Park. Hundreds of families came out to take advantage of a free evening at Clarksburg's Splash Zone and enjoy the food and entertainment provided by local businesses.

First Fridays Downtown hosted a diverse selection of live music, a Spray Zone provided by the Clarksburg Fire Department, Happy Hour specials at downtown restaurants and bars, and finished with a big screen revival of JAWS.

This month has also seen the release of the city's new monthly newsletter and the launch of the new Community Events Calendar, both are available 24/7 on the city website: cityofclarksburgwv.com
